

PRIVACY POLICY

We are committed to protecting your personal information in accordance with applicable privacy laws, including the Australian Privacy Principles outlined in the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth).

Use of Personal Information

We will use your personal information exclusively for:

- Assessing preliminary eligibility for our services.
- Assisting with applications submitted to relevant authorities, such as the Department of Home Affairs.

We will not use your personal information for any other purpose, nor will we disclose it to any third party without your written consent, unless required by law.

Confidentiality and Security

We take all reasonable steps to maintain the confidentiality of your personal information and documentation. Additionally, we ensure that your information is protected against unauthorized access, release, or disclosure.

Further Agreements

If you choose to engage our services for immigration assistance, a formal agreement will be required. This agreement will outline the specific assistance to be provided and the associated terms and conditions.

Your Rights

You have the right to:

- Review this policy and related documents carefully and at your own pace.
- Request clarification or explanation of any matters related to this policy.
- Obtain a translation of this policy into your preferred language by a qualified, independent translator, at your own expense.
- Seek independent legal advice regarding this policy or related agreements before providing consent.

By using our services or providing your personal information, you acknowledge and accept the terms of this privacy policy.